INTERVIEW SUMMARY

Commissioner for Patents
P.O. Box 1450
Alexandria, VA 22313-1450

Sir:

The Applicant has received an Office Action dated October 4th, 2003, and an identical Office Action on November 13th, 2003. The Applicant's undersigned attorney spoke to examiner Joanne Silbermann on December 2nd and December 3rd, 2003 regarding the two Office Actions, and the correct response date. Examiner Silbermann stated that the November 13th, 2003 Office Action replaces the October 4th, 2003 Office Action, that the November 13th, 2003 Office Action restarts the response deadline, and that no response is necessary to the October 4th, 2003 Office Action.

Respectfully submitted,

DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election of Group III in Paper No. 8 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).
2. Claims 3, 6 and 13-17 stand withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in Paper No. 8.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1, 2 and 7-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cotutsca, US #4,901,456 in view of Thompson, UK application 2,074,770.
5. Cotutsca teaches a display device including object 16 (Figure 1) having first and second ends, tether (linear filament) 23 connected to the second end, first magnet 30, and second magnet 26 (Figures 2 and 3).
6. Cotutsca does not teach rotating the display with a motor, however, this is old and well known in the art. Thompson teaches a rotating display having filament 15 attached to one end of object 24 and the other end to electric motor 14 (Figure 1). It would have been obvious to utilize such a motor in the device of Cotutsca so as to create a more interesting display, as discussed in Cotutsca, page lines 6-15.

7. Cotutsca and Thompson do not teach using a spring to attach the object to the motor, however, this is considered to be an equivalent alternative. It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art to utilize another such connection so as to provide a different type of motion for the display object.

8. Cotutsca and Thompson also do not specify one magnet as being stronger than the other, however, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to utilize magnets of sufficient strength to support the object in the proper position.

9. Cotutsca and Thompson do not teach using a transformer or battery power, however, these are well known electrical components. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to utilize a transformer if only AC current were available. It also would have been obvious to utilize a battery if no other power source were available or if the device was used in a remote location.

10. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cotutsca and Thompson as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Gill et al. US #6,279,254.

11. Cotutsca and Thompson do not teach using a fan, however, fans are old and well known in the art of display devices. Gill et al. teach an advertising device including fan

Cotutsca (as modified by Thompson) so as to create a more interesting, noticeable display.

Allowable Subject Matter

12. Claim 4 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

13. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: a rotating display device, as specifically described in claim 1 and further having the first magnet not intersecting the axis of rotation is not shown or suggested by the prior art of record.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

14. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. US patents 3874102, 2811356, 3955315 and 1753623 are cited as of interest.
